

BIG INVENTORIED ESTATES

SETTLED IN THE PROBATE COURT DURING THE YEAR.

All those of over $5,000—those settled in January and February—than in other months—very few during the summer—Several Estates of over $200,000—A Long List.

The following estates of over $5,000 have been inventoried and recorded in the probate court of New Haven county since January 1, 1895. Besides those given below there are several estates which have been brought before the court during November and December, which have not yet been fully inventoried and recorded.

January 7, 1895, Edward Henson, New Haven, $29,948.44.
January 15, 1895, Edwin H. Butler, New Haven, $7,874.
January 18, 1895, Stephen L. Usher, Orange, $37,151.32.
January 29, 1895, John A. L. New Haven, $16,120.15.

January 31, 1895, Aaron C. Andrews, New Haven, $3,909.39.

January 31, 1895, Mariner Boesher, New Haven, $9,805.

January 31, 1895, Lucy A. Brackett, North Haven, $8,755.65.

January 7, 1895, Emily Louisa Gerry, New Haven, $12,232.90; net 264.

January 23, 1895, Lily W. Knapp, Brooklyn, N. Y.; leaving property in New Haven district, $9,000.

January 29, 1895, Dwight Gorham, Hamden, $3,909.39.

January 29, 1895, John H. Burton, Hamden, $12,099.12.

January 29, 1895, Owen H. Morris, New Haven, $5,045.

February 6, 1895, George E. Matthey, New Haven, $29,237.

February 12, 1895, Susan A. Pope, New Haven, $5,782.66.

February 14, 1895, Willis Bull, North Haven, $3,297.12.

February 16, 1895, Salome Ketterer, New Haven, $9,109.

February 18, 1895, Charles W. Allen, New Haven, $7,120.41.

February 21, 1895, Edwin Smith, Seymour, $13,357.79.

February 4, 1895, Charles H. Ward, New Haven, $10,714.12.

February 5, 1895, John Brackett, New Haven, $7,811.37.

February 6, 1895, William V. Roberson, New Haven, $7,810.

February 8, 1895, Eliza H. Merwin, New Haven, $8,755.65.

February 11, 1895, Julius Schadee, New Haven, $21,511.39.

February 12, 1895, Benjamin S. Merryman, New Haven, $8,290.

February 18, 1895, Andrew C. Halsted, New Haven, $80,254.31.

February 28, 1895, Henry H. Grannis, New Haven, $10,566.96.

March 2, 1895, Francis Donnelly, New Haven, $12,099.12.

March 8, 1895, Justin Bradley, East Haven, $23,201.05.

March 8, 1895, Frederick A. Hoodley, New Haven, $74,048.62.

March 13, 1895, George H. Allen, Hamden, $15,829.54.

March 21, 1895, George A. Lyon, New Haven, $11,460.26.

March 22, 1895, Lucius Rowe, New Haven, $64,067.01.

March 26, 1895, Minerva E. Johnson, New Haven, $6,853.24.

March 29, 1895, Robert E. Isbell, New Haven, $8,023.24.

March 27, 1895, Julia A. Beecher, New Haven, $65,525.85.

April 9, 1895, Joseph Burton Hine, New Haven, $18,520.45.

April 18, 1895, Elizabeth E. Reynolds, Orange, $7,730.40.

April 1, 1895, Alexander Thayer, New Haven, $165,652.97; net 264.

April 2, 1895, Patrick Doyle, New Haven, $5,764.43.

April 6, 1895, Michael Castigan, New Haven, $13,990.

April 30, 1895, Marcus Smith, New Haven, $9,492.

April 23, 1895, John W. Carter, New Haven, $8,598.80.

April 24, 1895, George W. Norton, New Haven, $5,574.75.

April 28, 1895, Elinore W. Benham, New Haven, $18,199.75.

April 23, 1895, Patrick Willis, New Haven, $6,080.

April 24, 1895, Michael McCann, New Haven, $22,843.

April 24, 1895, Charles A. Chase, New Haven, $23,545.41.

April 18, 1895, Chauncey Allen, Hamden, $19,522.81.

May 7, 1895, William Ames, New Haven, $5,073.50.

May 9, 1895, Horace S. Radford, Seymour, $27,805.59.

May 13, 1895, Edward Welch, New Haven, $7,523.

May 14, 1895, Edgar D. Chatterton, Hamden, $11,075.

May 17, 1895, Robert Ogden, DanBois, New York, $16,650.

May 20, 1895, Sidney W. Buck, New Haven, $5,325.

May 21, 1895, Edward A. Chapman, New Haven, $9,622.

May 22, 1895, Willis Humiston, New Haven, $6,571.56.

May 23, 1895, Nelson J. Beach, North Haven, $5,834.30.

Any Doctor

Will tell you of the merits of this mineral water that is fully analyzed and a remedy where appropriate and without the only to assist on having the only

AERATED LITHIA WATER.

Just the right amount of Lithium Carbonate, Sodium Bicarbonate and Sodium Chloride to make it healthful. The greatest amount of effervescence ever instilled in a water to make it delightful. It's absolutely pure and deliciously palatable. In fact, its peer does not exist in the world. Try it once and be convinced. Ask your druggist, or send to us for full particulars and terms.

Use our Superior Club Soda.

HYGIEA ICE & WATER CO.

351 to 391 State Street, NEW HAVEN, CT.

Our saying "What's the matter?" is the author, Mr. Townsend, assisted by Augustus Thomas, the distinguished playwright, has taken the sum and substance of these facts and made a highly original and amusing play of them, and Mr. Charles Dwyer, a comedian who has still his hands to him, has attempted to impersonate the hero. If the play is not a success it will be mainly because he has failed to note just those things which made the character in the book so fascinating. Children were not the farmer to shoot off his face at such length about his faithfulness to Miss Fanny. In the book he was a slightly manly chap, but he never seemed to realize a humor, more less talk about it. Moreover, Chimney's witless do not appear as now delivered. It is of course a very trying role and Mr. Dwyer seems to possess some of the requisite qualities, so perhaps with time he can put a little more "go" into it. The company is remarkably good throughout. The hit of the evening was made by Marie Haines as "Miss Murphy." It was one of the finest bits of character acting that we have seen. Miss Bates has been seen once a great many times, but she never was a true many as last night. "Miss Fadden," Chimney's mother, was also well done by Fanny Bates. For almost the only time on the stage society characters looked, spoke and acted like the thing. George Nash as "Paul," Cuyler Hastings as "Mr. Burton" and Carrie Keller as "Fanny" were admirable in their parts, and together with the handsome settings and appropriate accessories an excellent record of the real social life was presented. The others were all good in their respective roles. The play ought to be a great success when it has been brought up a little. The general construction is good, the dialogue is pointed and witty, and the characters are original and well drawn. The mountings are fine and the street scene of the first act was highly realistic. The performance today, in fact, and evening, ought to be well attended.

Among the distinguished people at the performance, besides the author himself, were:

A. M. Palmer, manager of Palmer's and Garden Theatre, New York; Henry C. Jarrett of New York, Augustus Thomas, author of "Alhambra"; Clay M. Greene, author of "Lulu's" "Punch" ticket 204; "Miss" "My Sweetheart," Mrs. J. B. Lincoln, the distinguished actress; Robert Voss, the Dutch artist, now on a professional visit to this country from Holland; William Barlow of the Bohemian club of San Francisco; Burr McIntosh, widely known actor and football player; Charles E. Evans, manager of the Herald Square Theatre; Al Johnson, president of the Cleveland Baseball club; Frederick M. McCloy of the New York Dramatic News.

At the Hyperion New Year's day, matinee and night, "Charles's Aunt," the original New York company, presenting

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

one of the finest comedies every written and has won enthusiastic plaudits wherever given. The success of the play is a guarantee that everything will be first class.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The success of the "Waltz comedy company" at the Grand opera house this week has been phenomenal, and tonight they close their very successful engagement.

There was a large audience to greet the company last night when "Young America" was presented. The success of the play fell upon Alfred Keely, who assumed the role of Dicky Doodle, a German by birth, but an American at heart who kept the audience in a great state of hilarity during the evening by his many escapades. E. M. Crane as Dan Algonville made a crafty villain of the darkest dye. Ste. O'Leary as Paul Freeman showed how he loved his sweetheart, but at the same time that did not prevent him from loving his country as well. Little Morey as Mary Danning, Paul's sweetheart, showed the true girl of an American girl in her love and devotion to Paul. Little Lorraine was depicted as a girl who was sweet, and her sprightly and lively acting added much to the enjoyment of the audience.

The clever little Elmore sisters sang and danced themselves into the hearts of the audience, their double-skirt dance being remarkably well done.

The great success of the last doll machine has induced Mr. Bunnett to give one more today. Every child accompanied by its parent or guardian that purchases a reserved seat will be given a coupon at the conclusion of the performance; the pretty little Elmore sisters will hold a reception on the stage, and receive their little friends who hold coupons, and hand them the articles. In addition to the articles given away at the last doll machine a number of the celebrated horse puzzles will be distributed today.

Wallen and Martell's great production, "South Before the War" will be at the Grand opera house Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week. Regular matinee Tuesday; special holiday matinee New Year's day. The evening show the dark camp meeting with all the characters usually seen there and all the ceremony, singing, shouting and amusing incidents which are known to characterize such gatherings. Other realistic scenes follow one upon the other until the audience is fairly refreshed with its glimpse of old time dark life and is finally treated to a new fangled cake walk. There will be a parade given by the entire company, starting from their hotel car, which will occupy space at the depot.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will make its last appearance. Next week will appear the "Newspaper" quintet, a novel combination that Hyde & Ballman of Brooklyn have taken on the stage. Wherever the troupe have appeared they have caused a sensation, and this experience will undoubtedly be repeated in New Haven.

Twenty members of Pacific Lodge I. O. E. of Meriden, acted as honorary bearers at the funeral of William E. White and his wife of this city, who were captured last by the same company in their home in the house of their son-in-law, W. J. Brill. Mr. White was a member of the lodge.

Polk's Wonderland Theatre.

"Women vs. Men," as presented by Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol at Polk's Wonderland theatre, has proved such a bright and amusing comedy that the public will regret that this afternoon and evening after the last opportunity to witness it, it is interesting to hear that Mr. Polk has received word from Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol, that they are booked solidly for the last of April, when they always retire for a six months' rest on their Beechwood farm in Westchester county. Tonight also the brilliant specialty company supporting Mr. Wilson and Miss Erol will